Voice Above Water: October 7th 6:30pm

Dana Frankoff is a filmmaker in Northern California who has helped make academy award-winning films come to life. "Voice Above Water", is a short documentary that combines her passion for protecting the ocean and storytelling. Her overall goal as a filmmaker is to tell emotional stories that motivate people towards living a sustainable lifestyle and help make the world a healthier place.

We are also excited to have Liz Schotman explain how we can take action locally to care for our waterways through the Olympia chapter of Surfrider. The way we can protect the Puget Sound and our coasts, through cleanups, water quality testing, outreach, and advocating for policy change.

A healthy ocean is a happy ocean!
