Celebration of Birds

February 3rd @ 6:30pm

We will be joined by Elaine Chuang and Tiffany Adams who will share their passion for birding, their desire to share these experiences with others, and their advice for fledgling birders or casual bird enthusiasts. Then we will hear from Terence Lee from Nisqually Reach Nature Center (NRNC) about the ecologically significant Pigeon Guillemot species. You will learn about the Community Science efforts that go into studying birds in our area and could even get involved in collecting data yourself!

Birds can help us monitor the health of ecosystems!
